

Says

What have we heard them say?
What can we imagine them saying?

Thinks

What are their wants, needs, hopes, and dreams?
What other thoughts might influence their behavior?

The indexes published by the heritage Foundation.

An annual report that measures the level of economic freedom in countries around the world.

A conservative think tank based in Washington D. C., in partnership with The Wall Street Journal.

There is a positive correlation between economic freedom and a countries overall prosperity and growth rate due to economic development.

In an economically free society, individual are free to work, procedure, consume, and invest in any way they please.

The fundamental right of every human to control his or her own labour and property.

S. SARANYA's room
Third year B. Sc,
5th semester

These pillars the index measures factors such as property rights, government spending, business freedom, labour freedom and trade freedom

The index is based on four main pillars
1.Rule of law
2.Government size
3.Regulatory efficiency and
4.Open market

The index uses a combination of qualitative and quantitative data to rank countries on a scale of 0 to 100 with 100 representing the highest level of economic freedom.

The index evaluate 177 countries in four broad policies areas that affect the economic freedom, which are rule of law, government size, regulatory efficiency and open market.

People can engage in trade with any person of the choosing.

It also takes into consideration some spetic categories likeproperty rights, judicial effective ness, government integrity and tax burden

Does

What behavior have we observed?
What can we imagine them doing?

Feels

What are their fears, frustrations, and anxieties?
What other feelings might influence their behavior?

See an example